

The only constant in life is change

Lavan Legal is now Lavan

Lavan Legal is now Lavan. We have a new brand and we have opened newly refurbished offices and boardrooms at our existing premises at The Quadrant, 1 William Street, Perth.

Why change our name?

Lavan Legal has become Lavan for three reasons:

1. Lavan is more concise. Changing our name to Lavan will ensure consistency and ease of use.
2. For many years, the market place has colloquially referred to our firm as Lavan. It makes sense for us to be known by the name most commonly used by our clients and the broader community.
3. The services offered by our firm are moving beyond the practice of black letter law. Clients' needs are changing and Lavan will continue to evolve with our clients' needs.

Why change our brand?

The only constant in life is change. Our clients' needs are changing, our service offering continues to change, the competition is changing and the economy in Western Australia continues to evolve. It is therefore important that our brand reflects the changing nature of the world around us.

Our new logo

Our new logo is a kinetic logo in the form of moving trapezoidal shapes. The new logo represents our ability to respond dynamically to meet the needs of our clients.

What changes?

- Our name: We are now Lavan.
- Our logo: Our logo is now a series of changing trapezoidal shapes (it is kinetic).
- Our website: From today our website URL is www.lavan.com.au
- Our emails: Our email addresses are now [\[first name\].\[last name\]@lavan.com.au](mailto:[first name].[last name]@lavan.com.au)
Our old email addresses will be redirected to the new email addresses.

Launch of the new Lavan website

The launch of the new brand and name was a unique opportunity to update our website. We invite you to view the new site at www.lavan.com.au.

What stays the same?

The change of the firm's name has no effect on the composition of the firm's partnership. It also has no impact on our fees or pricing structures or on the provision of services to our clients.
